Certificates issued will be valid for three years. Once your certification has expired, you are no longer a certified appliance recycler and may no longer operate as a certified appliance recycler.

Once a certificate is issued, DTSC will notify the certified uniform program agency (CUPA) in your jurisdiction, which is responsible for inspecting the certified appliance recycling facility.

If denied, DTSC will explain to you why your application failed to meet the requirements for certification.

DTSC may revoke or suspend a certification issued.
